Image

Image

Image

Image

Image

Image

Image

Image

Who I am:

Cody Copperthwaite
a SETU IDAD [Interactive digital art & Design] student who specialises in 3D modelling and design.

Working with companies such as NTWU and indie groups alike, Cody has been contributing to the games industry for over half a decade.

Having made his own indie game ”Bunker 7274” aswell as working with multiple teams on medium to large projects, Cody is more than capable of adapting to whatever a project requires.

You wont find another artist more passionate and dedicated to the craft.

Bio:

Born in northside dublin, Cody takes a lot of inspiration from his home city of dublin when creating his designs.

Moving to county Wexford, Cody found a knack for electronics and basic programming. This very interest propelled him through secondary school and into the tech and games industry.

Many of his works today stem from the inspiration of his upbringing.